Dad, theres nothing in this world I wouldnt do to have another chance to see you. As the days go by I learn more and more. My boy Dallas jr asked about you today. I had to show him who you are. Your papi was a fire fighter and a singer. He loves dogs and to fish and play his guitar. And he loved his grand babies. Showed him your videos on you tube. He said wow my papis a singer. As I held back the tears and told him that you would sing to express love. He asked if hell ever meet you. And I had to tell him that he will see you one day. In heaven with a guitar in one hand and a fishing pole in the other. He said to tell you { Hello Im Dallas cook jr }. I hope you are having some peace in heaven. And get to see pappaw again. If it aint to much trouble tell him I love and miss him to. Tell Nana that shes the sweetest woman in the world and that I love her. When you see uncle George let him know I got way better at catching fish. That I dont need a bread bag anymore. And when you sit down next to sing a song sing one for me. And dont cry Daddy we are ok down here. Im sorry for the last words I had with you. Id give anything in the world to take it back. I was just speaking with anger. I hope your forgive me. And when I see you again with your wings. Youll teach me how to use mine. Until then fill the heavens with your songs of love. Tell Jesus thank you for letting us borrow you for so many years. I love you and Ill see you on the other side. Love your son Dallas G. Cook Sr

I enjoyed playing guitar and singing with Donald on several occasions in the year that I knew him. It was fun and laughs. I had hoped to do it again but that wasn't in the cards. Karon and I miss Donald and say "We know you have joy, peace and health in Heaven, and we will see you some day."

Most of my memories with you are from when I was younger. All of us youngins would be running around the yard, not a care in the world, but I would always stop and listen when I heard you sing.
