What an amazing man, to say good bye to! He was such a positive person and made me feel \"at home.\" I remember the good times and stories and will always remember him in those moments. He is in my heart and always will be. Home will just not be the same without him. I will celebrate his memory and his going home to the Lord where we will meet again. I love and miss you all so very much! God is standing with us all at this time and will get us through....
