Sandra, you were such a sweet heart. You made days at LHS so much brighter. You were a ray of sunshine that would always make me smile, and I know I'm not the only one. It takes a heart of gold to spread as much happiness as you did. Rest in Peace, Sandra, spread your wings and make Heaven just as bright as you made everywhere you went.

I remember the first time I brought the kids over to the house and Sandra was so excited to see the \"Baby\"!\r\n -Lindsey\r\n\r\nI remember picking up Sandra at McDonalds in my big white truck and she loved to ride in it. When we came through the gate she knew all the gate guards by first name. She also was so excited to go to work and earn money because she wanted to buy everyone everything!:\r\n -Uncle Colby

Sandra was one of the sweetest girls I've ever met. She always knew how to put a smile on anybody's face. Whether she knew them or not. & she always gave the best hugs(: That's one thing I miss the most. But two of the best memories i have of Sandra is when one day at school, one of my guy friends hit me, and she yelled at him and told him not to. And the other is when I worked at Marble Slab. It was her first time there, and I told the person she was with that i truely admire Sandra, and seeing her smile everyday at school, was one of the best things ever. She never came to school without a smile. I miss you sweetie(:
