I had the honor of Halie passing through my life the short time that she came to school at East Leesville Elementary. She was a blessing in all of the lives that she touched. When Lacy would bring her to school, I would wait until she wasn't looking and I would sneak over to the bean bag chair and just sit and hold her. She was a precious child. I will miss her as I know everyone else will. My prayers are with her family. She is an angel in heaven.

Lacy and Kara, God will put peace in your hearts, just have faith in Him, as for Halie Bug, she was truly an Angel on earth, with that beautiful long hair,that laugh she always gave you will forever make you happy ever time you think of her,she will be missed forever,she gave us all so much love every time you looked at her, but she is with her MaMa Trisha now, until we see her again,and they can both watch over all us together, and talk about everything they never got to talk about. God took his \"little Angel\" home. God Bless You Both I love you. \r\n\r\nAunt Shirley

My prayers and thoughts are with you Lacy and Kara each day. I was blessed in being able to know each of you very well. I was very fortunate to get to know Hali Bug even before she was born it seems. God has a very special angel in his arms today. She is smiling and laughing in his loving arms. She and Momo Trisha are rocking or reclining watching over you mom and big sister. They are with you in each thing you do. Hali Bug had the best mom and big sister any child could have ever wanted. She was always well loved and cared for. Hali Bug was a beautiful and special little girl. Some people didn't know she closed her eyes and faked sleep whenever someone with lab coats came into her room. She tried to find the voices familiar to her. She laughed out loud for things such as pulling out her oxygen tube. She followed her mom and big sis with her eyes and her fave care takers. She was a true blessing from GOd above. We feel like Hali Bug was part of our family as the two of you are. I watched her grow into a wonderful beautiful little girl from the beginning and will never forget her. We love you Lacy and Kara. Our prayers continue to be with you.
