Mommy, I miss you so much. There is not a minute that goes by that I do not think of you. Im so thankful that you say the best in me ever since I was a baby entering the Jackson home. You have instilled great things in me but the most important life lesson Ill always keep and uphold is loving myself despite if anyone else does. You always told me to get myself together so I could be the best woman I could be, especially for your granddaughter. Mom I promise to be that and so much more. You are the true Epitome of love and womanhood and I thank you for paving the way for me! Until we meet again. We love you so much ❤️

Sister Jackson will be miss. Letter writing was great with her. She enjoyed letter writing so much and of course the snacks to. She loved writing to people about Jehovah and Jesus letting others know that God cares and to look forward to the resurrection of our love ones. Now this is what I am looking forward to see your face again.
