To: Friend who is keeping Andrea's Guest Book and her precious contributions to "life" alive I am just finding out about her passing and I am just sadden. Many years ago we were members of a group of 12 ladies known in Richmond, Virginia as the EMI Social Club. Andrea was a very special person and her smile and quiet mannerism will always be alive in my thoughts. May God continue to hold her children in His Hands.

To the Lewis Family, Andrea was always a positive person whenever I crossed her path. We could chat forever at the grocery store, a fellowship or at a Jazz Society event. I always knew that she dearly loved her family. She was a joy for so many people. The last ime that I saw her; she spoke of writing a book when she got to Georgia. She was happy; just talking about her plans. Her life was a book of love and compassion for others. She is missed. We met at VSU in 1961 and graduated with the class of '65. Then we came back to Richmond ready to take on the world. We skipped through the streets of Northside arm in arm, as we thought about our futures - Andrea, Carole, Barbara, Mary, Bernice and I. I hope that I did not forget anyone. She loved life and she loved people, and now she can rest. She did a great job.

To Pan, and the Lewis' Family, I truly will miss Andrea's email messages and her presence at the class activities. She will always be remembered by many acts of kindness and concern about her classmates of 1961. The most recent memory, we can relate to is the presentation, she had staged (even costumes) for our 2002 Stoneage Reunion. She had her heart and soul in the activity as always and the class certainly enjoyed preparing because of the joy it brought to Andrea's heart. Her genuine concern and love for people will be missed, dearly. Magdalene Kennedy Patton

Ms Lewis You were loved!! I worked with you for just over a year, and you meant so much to me personally and to the South Fulton Library. Your quiet gentle demeanor, your fun-loving side, and your creativity...I used to joke about it. You had creative ideas for anything and everything. Jheanelle, Jacqui, Jordan and I are so happy to have shared your last birthday party with you; we had so much fun. But you are now free from pain and suffering, and you have gone to be with the angels. I am so happy to have known you. I will miss you .
